

Standard Form Argument Exercises

Put each of the following arguments into standard form.

1. Surely God must exist. After all, the world exhibits a high degree of order, and order requires a designer.

2. I don't care what you say – I really think Josie is love with Juan. Why? Because she always wants to talk about him. And she gets very excited when he is due for a visit. She even blushes when you ask her about him. (From Trudy Govier, Asking the Right Questions)
